

GERMAN PEOPLE WANT PEACE

READY TO ACCEPT ANY TERMS UNITED STATES AND ALLIES WILL GIVE

IMMEDIATE CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES NOT YET IN SIGHT, OFFICIALS SAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. — Germany has replied to President Wilson with a note which the one is prepared to say it will lead the president even to continue exchanges on the subject of an armistice and peace at least has served almost to bring conviction here that the people of Germany actually are taking the reins of government and sincerely desire peace on any terms the United States and the allies are willing to give. There was no intimation tonight of the attitude of the president and probably there will be none until the official text of the new German communication has been received.

The president was in conference all evening with Secretary Lansing discussing the note as received by wireless late in the day. Like the reply to the president's inquiries a week ago, this note was sent out from the German wireless stations and picked up in the allied countries many hours before the official text could move by cable. The official version probably will come tomorrow thru the Swiss legation here.

Note Believed Slightly Garbled

As received by wireless the note is believed to be slightly garbled in the important sentences regarding conditions for the evacuation of invaded territory and for an armistice, but nevertheless it is regarded as an awkward attempt to meet the conditions laid down by President Wilson for consideration of an armistice. And it makes the significant declaration that the government in Berlin no longer is responsible to a single arbitrary influence—the kaiser—but is supported by an overwhelming majority of the German people. This declaration is supported by the statement that constitutional reforms are in progress in accord with the determination of the people under which no government can take or hold office without the confidence of the majority of a reichstag elected by universal, secret suffrage. It is accorded more consideration here because of confidential advices received only today indicating that the German middle classes have resolved to have peace at any price, and if necessary are prepared to get rid of the kaiser, the crown prince and all military control.

Thus belief is strengthened that the present note and those before are genuine efforts to obtain peace and are inconclusive merely because the Germans conducting the exchanges are seeking to bargain for something better than the unconditional surrender they are prepared to give if pushed to the wall. It is assumed also that they want to prepare gracefully the German public for realization of what has happened to their military machine and the war lords' dreams of power, so as to avoid a complete collapse of government.

Wilson May Await Developments

Diplomatic observers point out that the president is at liberty to make no response now, but await developments; to await performance of the promises of the Germans not to torpedo passenger ships, their implied promise to work no more destruction during their retreat from Belgium and France than military necessity requires and to await further development of the political heaven that evidently is working toward complete overthrow of military and autocratic power in the empire.

No one believes that immediate cessation of hostilities is in sight. The opinion most generally held is that if President Wilson decides to reply and if the entente governments agree the only step possible at this time would be to sanction arrangements to be dictated by General Foch in the field for withdrawal of the Germans without further fighting. Such arrangements contingent upon guarantees of continued supremacy of the victorious allied armies, virtually would mean surrender of the Germans.

Must Evacuate Invaded Territory

The official view here has been that evacuation of invaded territory must be completed before there can be an armistice. Should President Wilson after consultation with the allies adhere to this view, driving the Germans to and across their own borders would proceed and the opportunity for fixing details which the new note suggests "be brought about" would come only thru a request from the German lines under a white flag on the battlefield. Little importance is attached to the protests and denials in the note regarding German brutality and ruthless destruction of property. The important thing is whether atrocities now stop. As to an investigation by a neutral commission as suggested in the note the president indicated long ago that such investigations come to nothing except in connection with arrangements for final peace. Regarding the German denial of unnecessary destruction of property by the retreating armies, military experts say that undoubtedly such armies are authorized under international law to work terrible havoc in evacuated territory. But

Editorial Comment

Bloomington, (Ill.) Pantagraph.—The latest German peace note is thoroughly in line with previous hypocritical emanations from Hindenburg. It shows clearly that those behind the German government are far from the attitude of unconditional surrender. St. Louis Republic.—The German statement to the effect that no atrocities have been committed by the armies of the central powers is a lie on its face. * * * President Wilson should conclude with a statement like this: "Talk to Foch; I have no further time to argue with a treacherous lying Hun."

Atlanta Constitution.—The latest German peace note to President Wilson is involved and ambiguous. * * * Now let us refer all further communications from Germany to General Foch for his attention. If we are to have peace it will come that way. Rock Mountain News, Denver.—Neither state nor constitution can change the heart of a people and the German heart is still for the kaiser, still for war as a means to an end and still unrepentant of her crimes against humanity. We say again let Marshall Foch decide.

St. Louis Globe Democrat.—What ever the German note means, it is wholly unsatisfactory and wholly hypocritical. It does not come to the point. It is a mere beating about the bush to gain time to save the German face.

Chicago Tribune.—From the response it is apparent that the ruling powers at Berlin now look complete defeat in the face. There is but one mind in America on this war, that it shall go on to victory. The utter destruction of Prussian militarism and to the establishment of peace founded on its ashes.

Kansas City Times.—Germany is beaten; fundamentally beaten. She might fight on for months. But her doom is written in the only language she understands—the language of arms. * * * The only possible peace is the peace of unconditional surrender. The sooner Germany is given to understand this the better.

Illinois State Register, (Springfield, Ill.) — Germany fails to measure up to the acid test of sincerity. Admitting defeat she still hopes for peace by negotiation. America's answer will be "you have our terms, accept them or fight it out."

Equivalence or quibbling have no place in the final settlement of this war. Burlington (Iowa) Hawkeye.—When it is all summed up the note appears to be what it doubtless is, an attempt to satisfy several different cliques within Germany and with the hope, if not the expectation that, thru fluke upon the part of the allies, Germany will not be forced to unconditional surrender.

Quincy (Ill.) Whig.—The German reply is a spell-binder in diplomatic cant. There is a chariness toward the word "surrender" that may wear off as we approach the Rhine. But the note perhaps reflects the labored and stormy sessions of the crown council. If Berlin is in earnest about punishing the inhuman U-boat captives she cannot make us believe it by diplomatic notes.

Washington (D. C.) Post.—The communication is nothing else than an effort to obtain relief for the German army by uttering a series of falsehoods and false promises to President Wilson. * * * There should be only one answer hereafter to anything that Germany says: "Surrender to Foch."

PALMER SEIZES MORE ENEMY PROPERTY
New York, Oct. 21.—Seizure of two enemy owned concerns, the $1,000,000 paint manufacturing firm of Gerstendorfer Brothers, Inc., and the International Insurance company, both of New York, and the liquidation of the affairs of a third, the Hamburg American Assurance company, were announced today by Allen Property Custodian Palmer, directors for the seized concerns have been named and Mr. Palmer has taken over the $500,000 assets of the Hamburg company.

Text of Unofficial German Reply to President Wilson

Section One—"The text of the German note, as received by wireless, is as follows:

"In accepting the proposal for an evacuation of occupied territories the German government has started from the assumption that the procedure of this evacuation and of the conditions of an armistice should be left to the judgment of military advisers and that the actual standard of power on both sides in the field has to form the basis for arrangements safeguarding and guaranteeing this standard."

Section Two—"The German government suggests to the president that an opportunity should be brought about for fixing the details. It trusts that the president of the United States will approve of no demand which would be irreconcilable with the honor of the German people and with opening a way to a peace of justice."

Section Three—"The German government protests against the reproach of illegal and inhumane actions made against the German land and sea forces and thereby against the German people. For the covering of a retreat destruction will always be necessary and they are carried out insofar as is permitted by international law. The German troops are under most strict instructions to spare property and to exercise care for the population to the best of their ability. Where transgressions occur in spite of these instructions the guilty are being punished."

Section Four—"The German government further denies that the German navy in sinking ships has ever purposely destroyed life boats with their passengers. The German government proposes with regard to all those charges that the facts be cleared up by neutral commissions."

Section Five—"In order to avoid anything that might hamper the work of peace, the German government has caused orders to be dispatched to all submarine commanders precluding the torpedoing of passenger ships without, however, for technical reasons, being able to guarantee that these orders will reach every single submarine at sea before its return."

Section Six—"As a fundamental condition for peace the president prescribes the destruction of every arbitrary power that can separately, secretly and of its own single choice disturb the peace of the world. To this the German government replies:

"Hitherto the representation of the people in the German empire has not been endowed with an influence on the formation of the government."

Section Seven—"The constitution did not provide for a concurrence of representation of the people in decisions of peace and war. These conditions have just now undergone a fundamental change. A new government has been formed in complete accordance with the wishes of the representation of the people based on equal, universal, secret, direct franchise."

Section Eight—"The leaders of the great parties of the reichstag are members of this government. In the future no government can take or continue in office without possessing the confidence of a majority of the reichstag."

Section Nine—"The responsibility of the chancellor of the empire to the representation of the people is being legally developed and safeguarded. The first act of the new government has been to lay before the reichstag a bill to alter the constitution of the empire so that the consent of the representation of the people is required for decisions on war and peace."

Section Ten—"The permanence of the new system is however, guaranteed not only by constitutional safeguards but also by the unshakable determination of the German people whose vast majority stands behind these reforms and demand their energetic continuance."

Section Eleven—"The question of the president—with whom he and the governments associated against Germany are dealing—is therefore answered in a clear, unequivocal manner by the statement that the offer of peace and an armistice has come from a government which is free from any arbitrary and irresponsible influence, is supported by the approval of an overwhelming majority of the German people."

IMPROVEMENT IN INFLUENZA SHOWN IN SOME STATES

Big Decrease of Epidemic in Army Camps

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Improvement in the influenza situation in six states was shown by reports received today by the public health service but 27 other states reported the disease still spreading with many additional cities and rural districts affected. Conditions apparently were worse in Pennsylvania where it is estimated 350,000 cases have occurred, with probably 150,000 in Philadelphia. For the first eighteen days of October 14,805 deaths were reported in the state.

In army camps a slight increase in both influenza and pneumonia cases were reported Sunday, but a decrease was shown today with 3,007 influenza cases and 768 pneumonia cases, the lowest figures reported since the epidemic became general in the camps. For the 48 hours ending today at noon new influenza cases totaled 6,666; pneumonia 2,079, and deaths 919.

These figures brought the total of influenza cases since Sept. 13 to 290,447; pneumonia cases of 46,055 and deaths from all causes to 15,072. States reported improved conditions today to the public health service were Delaware, Georgia, Maine, Massachusetts, South Carolina and Tennessee. New cases in all these states are decreasing. The public health service announcement said that it was estimated that 180,000 cases had occurred in Connecticut up to yesterday with 2,625 deaths reported.

In New York, 37 cities out of 61, exclusive of New York City have registered 1,811 deaths from October 1 to 18, while in New York City there were 646 deaths yesterday.

In California 25,000 cases had been reported to Oct. 19; Nebraska reported 2,759 cases, and 66 deaths in 44 towns on Saturday while many new cases were reported in Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, Nevada, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, South Dakota, Virginia, Wisconsin, Utah and Washington.

Situation in Illinois Serious

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Bargain sales of all descriptions that draw people together and tend to produce crowding were prohibited throughout Illinois by an order issued by Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, state director of public health today as the influenza epidemic continued to spread. The order is effective immediately. Conditions downtown, the director said, continue to be serious, 153 communities reporting the development of 5,456 new cases within the last twenty-four hours. The cities and places reporting the largest number of new cases were:

Quincy, 142. Ashland, 111. Downers Grove, 28. Jacksonville, 110. Peoria, 134. Griggsville, 110. Briga, a small coal mining town, 500. East St. Louis, 162. LeRoy, 110. Woodstock, 41. Hoopston, 277.

The coal mining section of Wilmington, Dr. Drake said, was the "plague spot" in the state today and new cases were rapidly developing in coal mining communities "simply because they have no thought for responsibility in protection against the epidemic."

In Chicago the number of new cases reported to the health department today totaled 3,020 with 239 deaths.

Over 22,000,000 Subscribe to 4th Liberty Loan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—After reading a number of late reports on the outcome of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign which closed Saturday, treasury officials declared tonight there is little certainty of the total volume of subscriptions or number of subscribers but said there was good ground for the estimate that 22,000,000 or more had subscribed to the greatest war loan ever floated by any government. The fact that many of these representatives of the American Expeditionary Forces have subscribed $1,207,000 and that this probably would run to two millions or more. Officials and employees of 97 ship yards subscribed $35,386,800 the shipping board announced. If the other 106 yards maintain the same ratio the grand total for the industry will be double, $75,000,000, an average of more than $150 per man. Plants reporting subscriptions were:

American Shipbuilding Company, Cleveland, $5,900,000. Cramp Shipbuilding Co., Philadelphia, $3,100,000. Hog Island, $3,000,000. Skianer & Eddy, Seattle, $2,000,000. Submarine Boat Corporation, New York, $1,400,000. Fore River Plant, Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, $1,000,000.

ALLIES CONTINUE DRIVE OF HUN FROM FLANDERS AND NORTHERN FRANCE

WITH THE ALLIED ARMIES IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Oct. 21.—By The Associated Press.—The great battle in Flanders and northern France passed into its second phase today. The first phase was completed when the Lille salient was eliminated and the Germans were driven out of western Belgium so that the line all the way from the frontier of Holland to the Oise canal is virtually a straight one. This having been accomplished, the Belgians, British and French in the north started a sweeping movement today pivoting on a point about east of Sourtrai. The object of this appears to be the clearing of enemy from its front in northern Belgium and the same time to threaten his extreme right flank. The position at the south is in the region below Valenciennes. At both places the exhausted German divisions, whose ranks have had great holes chopped into them by terrific blows are fighting with the greatest desperation. The German commanders are sacrificing many men in their endeavors to hold their ground but in both sections the allied troops have smashed into the enemy and made appreciable gains. Scores of additional villages have been reclaimed and numerous prisoners and large quantities of supplies have been captured. In the center of the battle area the British kept thrusting out everywhere and gradually during the day moved forward toward the west bank of Scheldt with increasing celerity.

Germans Prepare for Quick Retreat

The Germans have their cannon close to the roads and on them, so that when it becomes necessary to withdraw the guns they can get them away in a hurry. In their retreat the Germans have resorted to every known means to delay the bringing up of the artillery but without effect. At the present time, however, the allies are not hampered in the least for the Germans were put to such hurried flight that they had little time to take their artillery and vast stores of ammunition with them.

These fell into the hands of the allied troops and the guns were promptly turned around, and shells made in Germany were sent eastward as fast as they could be fired against their original owners. Infantrymen thus had a novel experience in serving artillery. In the northern part of the battle area allied cavalry is moving ahead of the infantry clearing out the Germans. And all the while the allies are getting nearer and nearer to Ghent. Belgian artillery has been moved up rapidly behind the infantry and is pounding the enemy constantly. Shrapnel is breaking continuously on the German rear, and high explosives are reaching out for transports and men on the roads.

The fighting is going on in rain and mud. To some extent the allied troops have left behind the ground which turns into marsh and have not been hampered greatly.

Hun Driven Farther Eastward

With the Allied Armies in Belgium and France, Oct. 21.—By The Associated Press.—In heavy fighting which preceded last night and continued today in heavy rain, Germans everywhere were driven farther eastward. In Belgium the allies are three miles from Becloo and between Courtrai and the Dutch border, British, French and Belgians are pushing Germans toward Ghent from which they are less than seven miles. In the center of the battle area the British are on the west bank of the Scheldt for more than ten miles north of Tournai, in front of which the Germans are resisting stubbornly with machine guns. Frontally the British have reached positions less than four miles from Valenciennes. Northwest of Valenciennes they have entered the great Vicogne-Raismes forest. In the region northwest of Lille the British are pushing out in the general direction of LeQuesnoy, fighting every foot of the way. Germans here and there in Belgium have held out strongly in enormous concrete forts from which the guns had been removed. These forts were used by German machine gunners and in some cases it required shells from heavy guns to crack them. More prisoners have been captured the third army taking over 2,500 yesterday.

FOLLOWING THE RULES.

Thus far remarkable records have been made at Illinois college in the contest with influenza. In both of these institutions active preventative measures have been adopted and thus far there has not been a single case reported. While in some instances it seems that people contract the disease even after having taken the greatest care, as a rule there is reward for those who are willing to go to the necessary daily trouble of following out the rules suggested by health authorities.

KEEP YOUR NERVE.

Fear of influenza is said to be one of the greatest contributing causes in the spread of the disease. With so many people here afflicted with conditions elsewhere so much worse, it is the course of wisdom to urge people to take protective measures and to sound a note of warning. But there is no reason why people should be alarmed to the extent that they more readily contract the disease. Use all the preventative measures you can. Seek to escape the disease but if symptoms indicate that you are "getting it" then follow the health rules implicitly and the chances are very strong for your recovery. Don't lose your nerve and get "panicky" for that state of mind makes you much more likely to contract the disease.

THE AUTO OWNERS WILL PAY.

4,800 miles of hard road in Illinois and not one cent of expense to you unless you own an automobile. Never before have the people of Illinois had such an opportunity to get something without taxation as is offered to them by the proposed Sixty Million Dollar State-Wide system of hard roads to be voted upon on November 5. The State's income from auto licenses will easily pay for the entire system, without taxation of any kind. Land will not be molested. Personal property will not be molested. Autos will pay the entire cost. Vote YES on the Little Road Improvement Ballot and don't forget to do so.

RAISING SPECIAL FUND.

Rev. H. H. Walker, professor of church history at the Chicago Theological seminary, is in the city for a few days representing the Midwest Religious Leadership fund which is especially for the purpose of securing better equipment for the Chicago Theological seminary, Union Theological college and the Congregational Training School for Women. It is proposed to raise $750,000 for this fund and Dr. Walker is now engaged in a tour of visiting a number of Congregational churches in this vicinity. A special appeal is made at this time because many of the leaders deeply feel the necessity of furnishing adequate training, not only for the college men but for non-college men and for the prospective leadership of foreign speaking churches. Contributions are being sought, payable in cash or in installments.

GERMANY STILL PARLEYING.

The German answer or peace note received by President Wilson yesterday is not of a kind that at all meets the president's requirement nor that of the people of America. The president's note can be shortened into two words, "unconditional surrender" and the German answer is far from that. There are too many words and there is too much of ambiguity to suit the popular mind.

German war lords seem to be shaming democracy but there is no deep sincerity of reform apparent from their message and no indication that their spirit has been really broken. Then too, the note contains denial of certain charges that the world knows are true. Germany is evidently parleying and is looking for the softest place to "light". No doubt the president's next message will be short and to the point, a kind which will permit only one of two answers, "yes" or "no."

A QUIET CAMPAIGN AND A STRONG TICKET.

War interest, activity in the Fourth Liberty Loan and now health conditions contribute to make the present political campaign unusually brief. Election is but two weeks off and there can be no general political meetings. Parties and candidates must content themselves with comparatively quiet methods. House to house visitation will be possible and some general publicity, but none of the old time methods are permissible. Notwithstanding this prevailing quiet the Republican party takes special pride this year in its list of candidates. Men were chosen at the primary because of their standing in the community and their qualifications for the offices they seek.

The party can rally with strength and confidence to the support of these men:
County Judge—Paul Samuel.
Clerk—G. L. Riggs.
Sheriff—Vincent R. Riley.
Treasurer—Grant R. Graft.
Superintendent of Schools—T. P. Carter.
Commissioner—Capt. J. M. Swales.

PASSING YEARS BRING NEW NEEDS.

It is no reflection on the men who framed the constitution of Illinois back in 1870 to say that the constitution now needs some revision. Their work was done near fifty years ago and Illinois has changed from a state of 2-500,000 population to one of 6,200,000. Conditions of living and the methods of doing business are so very different that certain changes are highly advisable. This is the principal reason, no doubt, that there is such a unanimity of opinion about the proposed constitutional convention. The Democratic and Republican parties have endorsed the convention plan in their state conventions. Governor Lowden, ex-Gov. Dunne, judges of the supreme court and the lower court, state officials, lawyers, bankers, business and professional men up and down the state have given their approval to the plan. The fact is that all citizens who have given the subject thought realize that changing conditions strongly suggest a change in the constitution on which the business and general relationships of this commonwealth are based.

312 YEARS B. C.

The Romans began the construction of the celebrated Appian Way about 312 years B. C. and soon completed its 800 miles of hard road which were in good condition for eight hundred years.

Surely Illinois, Imperial Illinois, a century ago peopled by the best blood of the whole world, with a soil and climate unsurpassed for agriculture, with an incomparable system of railroads, with an immense commerce and great industries and with the worst roads in the world, should adopt a definite system of road improvement which will provide hard roads soon and lessen the great burden now placed on industry and commerce by her mud roads.

The Sixty Million Dollar Bond issue for a State-Wide System of hard roads will give Illinois 4,800 miles of hard road extending into every county of the State within five years after the close of the war without one penny taxation on real estate or personal property. Motor vehicles will pay the bill and the owners thereof will be money in their pocket in doing so.

Vote YES on the Little Road Improvement Ballot on Nov. 5. If you forget to mark the ballot you will be counted as voting NO.

The Great Tonic.

No doubt all ailing critters, weary of their ills, have taken Simpson's bitters or Popoff's purple pills, yet found their ailments chronic, to their intense despair, until they tried this tonic—the crisp October air. I've lapped up Johnson's syrup of seaweed, prunes and cheese and it would merely stir up new symptoms of disease; the doctor's diagnosis has often made me snort; I've taken dope in doses as powerful as a quart; I've piled on porous plasters, I've worn them inside out, to head off such disasters as rheumatism and gout. In all the druggists' healing there's nothing to compare with this, of which I'm speaking, the crisp October air. I'm living, at this writing, from all my ailments free; I'm fit for full of fighting or shinning up a tree. No more of you groping in cupboards for my pills, nor more you see me nodding my works for sundry ills, for organs dislocated, for falling of the hair; I've been rejuvenated by crisp October air. I'm active, blithe and sprightly, my gait is free and bold; I trot around as lightly as any ten-year-old; my enemies I've trotted, disease and pain and care; it really should be bottled, this crisp October air.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ASKED TO USE THE CROSSING

Please instruct your children to use regular railroad crossings to and from school and not use railroad right of way for play grounds. Co-operation of all people in this matter will be appreciated.

The above request is issued, signed by Mayor Madgett, J. J. Connors, chairman local safety committee, G. W. Lehr, Northwestern agent; G. W. Murphy, Burlington; S. A. Collier, Missouri Pacific.

This is tackling a practical question in a practical way, and if the effort will save a few lives or limbs, it will be an effort well spent.

By co-operating with school principals, teachers and parents, agents can do a lot to prevent accidents to children by developing a conviction that the way to avoid these accidents is to keep the children off the railroad tracks and grounds.

Good work has been done in the past along these lines. Will you please take the matter up again at this opportune moment.

Death was due to an attack of pneumonia following an illness of Spanish influenza. EDWARD CORAY OF COLORADO SPRINGS HERE.

Edward Coray who was called here from his home in Colorado Springs, Colo., by the death of his father, the late Silas G. Coray, is devoting a few days to greeting his former friends. He has been away a good many years and naturally sees changes of all kinds in the place and says he doubts if he ever comes back to it again. He is enthusiastic over his home and says it is one of the finest places in the world. It had two wonderful citizens, General Palmer and Mr. Stratton. Both were multi-millionaires and both had an idea of dividing their wealth with the public and needy persons. General Palmer gave the public the noted place, "Garden of the Gods". Glen Eyre and many other magnificent gifts were from him and that too before he died.

Stratton left an estate of something like ten millions and after giving something to his son, his wife having been divorced from him, he devoted the remainder to a home for worthy, indigent people. A million was spent on the plant and the remainder invested producing $400,000 annually.

Sunday afternoon the Y. W. C. A. of Illinois college held a very interesting meeting. Miss Akers led a short devotional with quiet sincerity.

Miss Ellen McCurley then took charge of the meeting. She gave a brief introduction of the book: "Mobilizing Woman Power" by Miss Blatch.

A resume of chapters was made by several girls. Miss Helen Candee very ably handled "Our Foe in Winning the War". In which the tragic life of the German woman and children was shown. Miss Celestine Hemphill vividly described the mobilization of woman-power in Great Britain.

The organization of woman-power in France, was pictured by Miss Lola Foulk.

Miss Priscilla Capps charmingly recounted the general work of American women.

Miss Lucile Baker gave an interesting and snappy discourse on "Women and the Bay Envelope, Pooling Brains" and "Business as Usual". The Food and its handling was well discussed by Miss Elaine Thibault.

The organization of German Women was described by Miss Janice Taylor.

Miss Dorothy Chipchase told of the work that fifteen girls are doing in furthering "Woman's" part in saving civilization.

PHILIP STANDLEY IS LAID TO REST

Military Honors For Soldier Buried at Ebenezer Cemetery Sunday Afternoon—Impressive Services.

A large company attended the funeral of Corp. Philip Standley at Ebenezer church yard Sunday afternoon. Members of the family sat within the church, while all others were in automobiles nearby or grouped about the yard. The services were conducted by Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the church. Music was furnished by Mrs. J. E. Martin, Mrs. James Martin, Charles A. Rowe and Charles E. Patterson. The man's beautiful flowers were cared for by members of the Epworth league and Sunday school. The bearers were Benjamin Cully, Samuel Challiner, Fred Masters, Byron Houston, Howard McFadden and Everett Patterson, who were in the same Sunday school class with the deceased. Members of Co. C, who in attendance and the soldier was buried with full military honors. After the flag draped casket had been lowered the squad from the company fired a salute and taps was sounded.

Born in This County.

Philip J. Standley, who was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Standley, was born on a farm a few miles northeast of Jacksonville, June 22, 1896. His death occurred Oct. 13 at the base hospital at Camp Jackson, South Carolina, and so when he came to his untimely end he was a little more than twenty-two years of age. The deceased was preceded in death by his twin brother, Frank Richard Standley, who passed away, February 15, 1909. The entire life of the deceased was spent in this community until June 1, 1918, when he enlisted in the U. S. Cavalry and was sent to Jefferson barracks. Later on he went to Ft. D. A. Russell at Cheyenne, Wyoming, and was then promoted to corporal. It was August 15, that his company was transferred to the field artillery and he became a member of Battery F, 61st Field Artillery. About four weeks ago they were sent to Camp Jackson, South Carolina.

On Oct. 3, Philip Standley became ill and was taken to the hospital and was there until the day of his death, 5:40 o'clock Sunday, Oct. 13. He is survived by his parents and two sisters, Beatrice and Muriel; three brothers, Eugene and Marvin at home and Lloyd of Beardstown. The deceased was converted Feb. 12, 1911 and united with the Methodist church. His life was in every way exemplary and he was a young man who merited and had the good opinion of neighbors and friends. The corporal who came from camp with the remains voiced the sentiment of the soldiers who knew Corp. Standley when he said that his influence over his associates was great and always for the good. So this young soldier who has laid down his life for his country, leaves a fragrant memory and a record in which his parents may well feel pride.

Help for Sorrowin.

Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick chose his text from Jeremiah: "All ye that are about him bemoan him, and all ye that know his name say, 'How is the strong staff broken and the beautiful rod.' The minister read various passages of scripture and the service was a solemn full of strength and hopefulness. He referred in the beginning to the unusual conditions of today, with war and scourge and death all about us. Then he pointed to the precious promises of God, which cheer the soul in these times of sorrow. In concluding paragraphs of the sermon the minister said:

"He was a gallant fellow and went from his home and kindred to wage warfare on the most despicable of humanity. He was a knight of old who went forth to defend the honor of his lady. The foe would have invaded our own shores and he contended here his damnable crimes enslaving womankind and marauding children destroying the beautiful and good that he might break the hearts of his opposers. At the call of the nation in her time of need this fine young man went with the other millions to defend the nation's honor. He did not get to participate in any of the great battles over there, but he was nevertheless a hero preparing to do on the field of battle or die facing the foe.

"Young in years, full of purpose and energy it seems almost cruel that he should have been taken away from his half finished task. The summons came in the morning of his life when his hope for the future looked aloft and his dreams of life were full of felicity, but death found him ready. He had secured a passport to the fair somewhere over there but not France, but a fairer land where no wars alarms ever come. He murmured not upon complaint but stepped out upon the sea whose shores touch eternity. Had he embarked for Sunny France, he would have had no assurance of reaching her sunny shore, but when he launched out for the sunny land of heaven he had the blessed assurance that the pilot would land him safely on the tideless shore where he would be crowned a victor by the Saviour he loved and served.

A Fine Record.

"He enlisted in the Masters army on February the 12th, 1911 and found great joy in his service. He had found that there was more to life than just living and gratifying the natural man he found the eternal variety which makes a man the more a man. He sought the kingdom of God and having found that he also found that all the other things worth having in life were found also.

"The broader view of life came to him—the life which was in Jesus, sank deep into his nature and found therein an abiding place.

"While we for ourselves bemoan him and sorrow that he strong staff and the beautiful rod is broken, yet we will rejoice that so good a brother and son and companion was permitted to bless the earthly home and leaving casts a hallowed influence upon all who were fortunate enough to know him.

there is one prime condition to be met—all of this must be done with the sole purpose of damaging and retarding the pursuing army. Bridges may be destroyed, stores of food burned and even buildings which might shelter enemy troops. But it is not permitted to poison wells, to destroy fruit trees or to loot and destroy private property which would be of no use to either army, or in fact to commit any of the acts of wanton devilry which are charged against the German armies.

WAR SUMMARY

Views of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized
Form By Associated Press.

Dr. Solf, the German secretary for foreign affairs has sent another message to President Wilson on the important question of peace. This time Germany professes to accept all the conditions for an armistice and eventual peace as laid down by President Wilson.

The reply indicates Germany's willingness to evacuate occupied territory under an agreement to be reached by the military chiefs in the field. It is announced in the note that all submarine commanders have been ordered to cease attacks upon passenger vessels. Denial is made that lifeboats and passengers have ever purposely been destroyed or that any unauthorized atrocities have been committed by German troops.

It is declared that Germany now has a parliamentary form of government, responsible to the people.

Comment on the note is being withheld by the United States government pending receipt of the official text.

In the war theater the Allied armies have taken no heed of the efforts underway for the re-establishment of peace, but are continuing to force back the Germans at vital points along the lines in Belgium and France. In those endeavors the British and Americans are for the moment taking the principal parts. The British have approached to within two miles of Valenciennes and the Americans to the northwest of Verdun, have succeeded in occupying two highly important positions in their operations aimed at an advance northward.

American and British troops have crossed the Oise canal on a wide front in the face of desperate resistance and further successes in this sector will menace the Germans both to the north and south.

The Valenciennes-Hirson railway formerly one of the German main lateral arteries of communication has been cut. The west bank of the Scheldt canal has been occupied by the British along an extent of ten miles. To the north of Tournai while city being defended by masses of Germans armed with machine guns.

Belgium is gradually being reclaimed also that the Germans have drawn in their lines, the British, Belgians and French are encountering much stiffer opposition than during the early days of the great drive in the re-occupation by the Allies of the Belgian coast. The city of Ghent, an objective which the Allies have always had in mind is yet seven miles away. Probably it will be outflanked from the north before it is taken. Allied troops already have made considerable progress with this end in view. Having cleared the Germans out of Western Belgium. The Allied forces are standing on a line from the Dutch frontier to the Oise canal that is virtually straight. A new movement has begun to the east of Goirai the object of which is to free the northern section of Belgium from the enemy.

French troops have reached the Danube river in the region of Vilin after offensive operations in the eastern theater of the war lasting more than a month. The economic independence of Hungary is to be proclaimed at an early date in a manifesto which is reported, will be issued by Emperor Charles. Hungary will be permitted to maintain her own army and her own diplomatic corps.

Exceptions to the report were made and the hearing on the exceptions was before Judge James A. Creighton at the November term in 1916. After somewhat extended hearing Judge Creighton took the case under advisement. Shortly afterward he became ill and his death occurred. This was before he had given any decision in the case. It then became necessary for a re-hearing and the case was tried by Judge Norman L. Jones. His decision was made June 26, 1917, and was in favor of the defendants. An appeal to the supreme court was then prayed by the complainant and bond was filed. Subsequently the complainant's attorneys took the case to the supreme court on a plea of a writ of error.

Second Writ Filed.

To offset this plea attorneys for the defendants set up that the action was improper because the appeal from the finding of the circuit court made to the supreme court was still pending and the supreme court held this view. The attorneys for the complainants then dismissed the appeal and again took the case to the supreme court again on a writ of error. This last action was in June of 1918, and it is on this writ that the finding of the supreme court has just been announced.

The effect of the finding is to let the will of Mr. Browning stand and the estate will continue to be administered by the Farmers State Bank & Trust Co. The proceeds go to Mrs. Browning for her lifetime and, as indicated, she will have authority to dispose of one-half of the property by her will.

WITH THE COLORS

From Ray Hogan.

The following letter has been received by relatives of Ray Hogan, who has recently been transferred to the large aerial base at Morehead City, North Carolina:

Philadelphia, Pa.,
Oct. 16, 1918.

Dear Folks:
I am going to surprise you again by telling you that I am leaving here. We leave tonight at 11:20 for Hampton Roads, Va., and then we are to be transferred to Morehead City, North Carolina (where the weather will suit my clothes.) I do not know how long I will stop at Hampton Roads but I hope not long.

There are thirty seven of us going to Morehead City. We have a Pullman and the very best of everything. I am glad we are going because the climate there is much warmer. I understand, than we are having here. I understand that we are to stop at a hotel there instead of a barracks. I was very much disappointed when I learned that I was not going to France. The place where I am going is a large aerial base, where the seaplanes do coast patrol. Only six of my old company are going. Some asked me to go but the answer was "If we could we would send for you." Some of the company are mess cooks and the rest are seaman guard, so you can see why they were so anxious to come.

I was a seaman guard for four days, and was put into that work because they are short of seamen, owing to the prevalence of Spanish influenza.

This is sure a great life. It used to be that no one but the millionaires could enjoy the Pullmans and warm climate but now it is different. Will close now and will write again as soon as I get located, telling you all about the trip and the country.

AMERICANS ATTACK ON A SMALL SCALE

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun Oct. 21, 9 p. m.—(By The Associated Press)—The American attack on a comparatively small scale today was entirely successful. The Bois de Rappe and a formidable Hill No. 299, both points of strategic importance, were rushed and cleared of the enemy within three hours despite unusual machine gun opposition.

The artillery on both sides was fairly active throughout the day and late but the infantry action was confined to two local operations. The advance on the Bois de Rappe began just before noon. The wood was infested with machine guns which were not entirely eliminated by the brief preparatory shelling. Despite every effort of the Germans however, the Americans steadily forced their way ahead driving the enemy before them and at three o'clock in the afternoon were in complete possession of the wood. Hill 299 fell almost simultaneously with the Bois de Rappe which outflanked it. The Germans consequently retired hastily from the height when it appeared that the Americans had been successful in forcing their passage thru the wood. But 150 Germans were taken prisoner. Another minor success for the Americans was the expulsion of the enemy from his last position in Banterville wood. He had hung on to the northern edges of this machine gun stronghold from which it was possible to direct a harassing enfilading fire.

Perfect Health is Yours If the Blood is Kept Pure

Almost Every Human Ailment is Directly Traceable to Impurities in the Blood

You can not overestimate the importance of keeping the blood free of impurities. When you realize that the heart is constantly pumping this vital fluid to all parts of the body, you can easily see that any impurity in the blood will cause serious complications.

Any slight disorder or impurity that creeps into the blood is a source of danger, for every vital organ of the body depends upon the blood supply to properly perform its functions.

Many painful and dangerous diseases are the direct result of a bad condition of the blood. Among the most serious are rheumatism, with torturing pains; catarrh, often a forerunner of dread consumption; scrofula, eczema, tetter, erysipelas and other disfiguring skin diseases; malaria, which makes the strongest men helpless, and many other diseases are the direct result of impure blood.

You can easily avoid all of these diseases, and rid the system of them, by the use of S. S. S., the wonderful blood remedy that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. S. S. S. cleanses the blood thoroughly, and routes every vestige of impurity. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

MUST HUSTLE TO KEEP UP WITH U. S. TROOPS

With the American Army in France Oct. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The headquarters of the units of the American army in the Marne sector had to hustle to keep up with the American troops in the fighting when the Germans were hurried out of that salient and across the Vesle river.

In keeping contact with the enemy the American headquarters moved from one shell torn village to another. In most instances, the buildings or parts of buildings, had been occupied by German officers only a day or two before.

Previous to moving from one town to another telephone wires had been strung, or laid, so that, while the divisional officers were in the actual process of moving, the two headquarters in the two villages were in communication with each other until the task was completed.

After the telephone and possibly telegraph instruments, had been installed, the commanding officer would go forward to the advanced station with a few assistants and then others would follow in relays, each department bringing its books and papers, maps and other accessories of its particular branch. Transportation was by automobile and was only a minor incident of the moving. In one instance the entire transfer of a divisional headquarters was accomplished in less than three hours, the telephone connection having been accomplished the day previous.

In the case of a corps headquarters the commanding officer moved into new quarters one morning while soldiers were repairing the roof damaged two days before by a German shell. Telephones in working order with the village to the rear from which the corps was moving awaited the commanding officer when he arrived. Soon afterward officers and field clerks with cases of documents and papers of the different departments began to arrive and before noon the corps was working as smoothly as it had been the night before fifteen or twenty miles away and without having been out of communication with any of its units even for a second.

In addition to the telephone and telegraph the wireless apparatus had been set up, carrier pigeons were ready to be taken to the front as another means of communication, couriers on motorcycles were going and coming as if upon their speed rested the outcome of the war, and maps were on the walls within the house.

Each of the commander's assistants had his room and his collapsible desk in order, every clerk was on the job, portable desks and cases full of papers were in their respective place, beds had been made, and, in the yard under canvas, tables were set and the cook was mixing dough for biscuits for supper. And that night a motor and generator on a truck buzzed outside and the men at night duty had electric lights by which to carry on dove-tailed details being worked out to whip the Germans.

WITH THE COLORS

FROM BERYL G. LITER

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lowden of Virginia have received the following letter from their son-in-law, Beryl G. Liter, of Camp Hancock, Georgia:

Will try and write you a few lines tonight, to let you know I am feeling fine again. I suppose you have talked with Mary or mamma, and knew I was sick. I was in the base hospital three days. I wasn't so sick but just weak and tired out from the trip, and the effects of the influenza. It certainly got lots of the boys here. They have been dying as high as forty a day ever since I came.

One of the other boys and I took a sick man out of our ward back to the hospital tonight, and they told us twenty-two died from pneumonia this evening, so you see how bad it is here. Three other boys and I are doing orderly work, and like it fine. The boys are sent out of the base hospital to the evacuation hospital, which is just row after row of tents, with fourteen in a row and six cots in each tent. Each row is called a ward, and runs by the letters, such as Ward A, Ward B and so on. Each ward has a lieutenant over it. All of the lieutenants in the evacuation are doctors just like Blackburn and McGee were. They are sure a fine bunch of fellows too. Our lieutenant has just about worn himself out looking after his patients, but we boys take temperatures, give medicine, etc., now, and help him out quite a bit. Will be some doctor when I get back.

Have you had any cold weather up there yet? And is the corn ready to shuck? I suppose the wheat is looking fine, except where the pesky chickens ate it up. It is mild and warm here most all of the time. Some nights it gets cold, but we just let down the sides of the tent, crawl under the blankets and snore away. Everything is green here just like June and July up home. It is sandy around camp but I don't know how it is away from camp. We are located on a hill side and can see several miles across a valley.

There is quite a good deal of cedar timber here, and they raise cotton, peanuts and a little corn and hay. Will send you a bunch of cotton as soon as I get out of quarantine and can get around. Too bad about Tom Heath and Gerald Jacobs. The folks wrote me about them. May said in her letter you were going to send me a box to Camp Grant, but got word to hold it. Well, just let the good work go on, and stick in another chicken leg or piece of pumpkin pie, but be sure you have a stout box and tie it up well and have the address written plainly, and I'll attend to the rest.

I certainly wish I could step into something like a year ago tomorrow night, for just one hour. I certainly would enjoy myself, but the time is coming and by the papers it doesn't look far away when I can, and then just watch me. Two of us boys are not bothering us much so are writing letters. Just got back from eating our midnight supper so feel pretty good. We had bread and butter, cheese and coffee, blackberry jam and post toasts. I just ate half a box, was afraid I wouldn't have any for breakfast so quit.

Well, I guess I will let you rest your eyes for I know they are tired. Don't forget your soldier son is some 2,200 miles away and a good big letter looks pretty good, so be happy.

With lots of love to all, Beryl G. Liter, Evacuation Hospital, No. 31, Camp Hancock, Georgia.

FROM EDWARD McCOLLISTER

Mrs. A. T. McCollister, south Diamond street, has received the following letter from her son, Edward:

University of T., Oct. 16, 1918.

Dear Mother: Just received your most welcome letter this morning and was sure glad to get it. When you receive this I will be on a train, I think, for parts unknown. I graduate Saturday if nothing happens. We were supposed to have one more week here, but they have combined the two last weeks so we are taking two weeks' work this week and we have a stiff examination Friday. I finish Saturday and I guess we will be shipped out right away. I or no one else knows where we go to get an advanced course.

I sure have done some work and studying since I have been here. I have memorized four different codes besides the Morse International national, studied all about the theory of electricity besides learning all about the different kinds of wireless instruments and all about them.

There are a great many different styles of wireless sets and they are very complicated and we have to know all about them and how to repair them and the principle upon which they work so that is why we got the theory of electricity.

Say, if you have not sent that sweater I sent for why do not send it as I won't be here. I received the box of candy and I sure did enjoy it. That big picture was broken when I sent it and I had an awful time getting that without ordering one and waiting a week. The influenza has died down here, not so many cases. Everyone here has had it but me.

Out of the 100 artillery men who came here with me there are fifteen graduates. The majority "busted out" weeks ago. It is a stiff course. Don't worry about me going across as this war will be over before spring.

It is still warm down here. They just came around taking up a collection for a large wreath for two of our boys here who died of influenza. I gave 50c and I guess every student gave as much as a quarter and some a dollar so out of 800 soldiers imagine the flow-ers and wreaths. When one dies it takes the "pop" out of all of us. Well, I will close and if I leave Saturday I will wire and tell you where I go.

Hope you are well. Lots of love, Edward.

Write soon. From Harold V. Gaines.

Relatives of Harold V. Gaines of the 877th Aero Squadron, Aviation Repair Depot, Dallas, Texas, are in receipt of the following letter from the young soldier. He describes in an interesting manner a recent flight he made with a civilian flying instructor. His letter follows:

My Dear Folks: Received your letter yesterday, and was mighty glad to hear from you all, (real Southern).

I have been transferred from the ware house inspector to the Dope house. I am in charge of inspection here. It is somewhat of a promotion for me as you will soon see as I expect my stripes this month.

The "Dope House", is a big place where they cover all the wing and fuselages. Then they put the "dope" on. What I mean by "dope" is a thick chemical composed of either, Banana oil, Acetone and cellon. They are all very poison and the odor is something awful. They say if you stood over a "dope" brush for 6 months it would kill you, but don't worry about me cause I don't have to go out in the "dope" room as I have an office and when ever any wings or fuselages (French for airplane) are ready to go out they have to go right by my office and I inspect them.

I was up in one of the ships yesterday morning and had quite a time. We had been up about 6 minutes and all of a sudden every thing got hazy just like it is when you go into a cloud. You couldn't see a thing down on the ground and Mr. James Ward, (a civilian flying instructor) who was the pilot shut off the motor and he said, "Gaines, we are out of luck, there is a big fog below." So he glided around trying to save gas because we couldn't tell how long we would have to stay up. Every once in a while Jimmie would shut off the motor as to see if he could hear our siren whistle, which they always blow in a fog, so the pilots won't get lost.

We had been up about an hour and the gas was getting low and—so was I. Well we thought we were up about 2,000 feet and I looked down, and I saw the top of a house and the chimney, not 20 feet below us, and at the same time Jimmie saw some high tension wires, (like those that run from the Keokuk dam) and he thought he would dive under them. Well, we got under all right and also tore up about six feet of ground for a hundred feet or more, and ended up with running into about 50 bales of cotton. The only sore place about me is my knee caps where I rammed them thru the instrument board and Jimmie Ward tried to ram his foot thru the back of my seat (and he almost did it, too.) The propeller and one wing on the ship were smashed.

This is my second little accident and I am still as nuts about riding in the ships as I used to be about automobiles.

We have got the Germans on the run and will have them whipped by Christmas. If we do, I will be home in time for fried chicken next summer.

I received the Journal yesterday with my package and I was sure glad to get them both. I noticed Mat, at Merrigan's, had his name written on the box of candy.

I am going to ask for a furlough next month. I don't know whether I will get it or not, but there is nothing like trying.

I will have to close for this time. I am expecting a letter from Dad Monday or Tuesday, and tell all my friends to drop me a line.

With love to all, Harold V. Gaines, 877 Aero Squadron, Aviation Repair Depot, Dallas, Texas.

P. S. I ran across Herman Cohen, from Springfield, Ill., who used to live across the street from us. He is in the Quartermaster Depot, at Lovefield, our next door neighbor.

DR. GARWIN S. GAILEY CALLED BY DEATH

Well Known As Land Physician
Answered Final Summons Sunday—Funeral Services to be Held This Morning at Ashland.

The death of Dr. Darwin Spencer Gailey occurred at his home in Ashland Sunday at 12:30 o'clock p. m. The deceased had been ill for a few days with influenza and as a result of this disease septic infection followed which resulted in his death. The deceased who was born in Prentice Jan. 2, 1876, had spent practically all of his life in Morgan and Cass counties. He was a son of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Gailey, his father having been for a number of years a physician at Ashland. After graduating from the high school in Ashland in 1893, Darwin Gailey entered the medical department of the university of Michigan and was a student there for three years. The following year, in 1897, he graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Chicago, and began the practice of medicine shortly afterward in Ashland. During the years of his residence there he had built up an extensive practice extending over a wide territory around his home town.

The deceased was married Sept. 25, 1897, to Miss Lou Elmore, who survives him, together with their two children, Elmore, who is a student at the University of Illinois, and Elizabeth at home. Dr. Gailey had been prominent in the affairs of his home town, having served two terms as mayor and two terms as president of the board of education. He was identified with all public movements for the betterment of the community. He was a member of Ansar temple, Mystic Shrine, and of Springfield Consistory. He was also identified with various medical organizations.

In addition to his wife and children, Dr. Gailey leaves his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gailey, one sister, Miss Rowena Gailey of Chicago and one brother, Lieut. W. W. Gailey, now in the army medical service located at Lakewood, N. J. Two brothers, Byron and Eugene preceded him in death. The wife and daughter are both ill with influenza, and the same is true of the mother and brother. During the recent days the spread of influenza has made Dr. Gailey's work very strenuous and he was so worn with the strain and loss of sleep that he proved a ready subject for the disease himself. His death has cast a gloom all about his home community. The funeral will be held at Ashland this morning at 11 o'clock, in charge of Rev. C. E. Smoot of Petersburg.

MISS LENA WALKER MARRIED IN CHICAGO

Former Resident Became Bride of Luman D. Allin on October 14—Daughter of Mrs. Jennie Walker, and Niece of Major Dalton.

Friends here will be surprised to learn of the marriage in Chicago of Miss Lena Walker, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Walker of 429 South Church street to Luman D. Allin, a resident of that city.

The ceremony was said by the Rev. E. E. Robb and was witnessed by only the relatives and few intimate friends of the contracting parties. Mrs. Jennie Walker, mother of the bride, who was in attendance at the wedding, has just returned home.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jennie Walker and niece of Major W. H. Dalton. She was born and reared in this city and graduated from the Jacksonville high school. She later supplemented this with a business course at Brown's business college. A number of years ago she went to Chicago and now holds a responsible position with the National Trust and Savings Bank in that city. She is a young woman possessed of much personal charm and has a host of friends in Jacksonville who will unite in wishing her many years of wedded happiness.

The groom is a native of Bloomington and comes from one of the pioneer families of McLean county. He has for a number of years been credit manager for one of Chicago's large wholesale houses and is highly regarded by his employers.

DEEP WELLS.

Until January 24th the record for depth in drilling oil wells had been held by a boring at Czuchow in Silesia, which had reached the depth of 7,349 feet. But on January 24th the State geologist of West Virginia announced that the Hope Natural Gas Company had driven the bit to a depth of 7,350 feet, one good American foot in excess of the German record. A few weeks later it was announced that West Virginia well was 7,363 feet deep. Moreover, it is expected that this depth will be considerably increased as drilling is still in progress and sufficient length of cable adequate power and the proper tools are at hand.

7,363 feet is almost 1 1/2 miles. The depth of this well exceeds the height of Mount Mitchell (6,711 feet), the highest mountain in the Eastern United States. It is over half a mile deeper than the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona. The well goes nearly a mile farther into the earth than the deepest mines in Michigan, Brazil or Europe.

Important observations of the temperature of the rocks at different depths have been made by the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior to determine the rate at which the temperature increases downward in the outer crust of this part of the earth. At a depth of 7,000 feet in the well the temperature is 152 degrees F. The rate of increase at this depth is about one degree in fifty-one feet showing that the outer crust of the earth in this region is relatively cool, for in other regions the temperature increases much more rapidly. Geologists estimate that at a depth of 10,000 feet the rocks in the well will be found at the boiling point 212 degrees F.—Du Pont Magazine.

STEALING LIGHT BULBS.

Yesterday Frank Leeder reported that some miscreants were stealing light bulbs from the entrance to the Majestic theater. The theater is closed because of the epidemic of influenza and evidently the thieves are taking advantage of the fact. However, Messrs. Luttrell and Leeder are on the lookout and have a pretty good idea of the ones who are doing the stealing. If it is not stopped they probably will meet up with bad luck.

MR. AND MRS. GERMAN RETURN FROM LOUISVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. John L. German of the southwest part of the county have returned from Louisville, Ky., where they went to visit their son William who has been afflicted with influenza in Camp Taylor. They made the trip there by auto taking along a son and daughter who returned a few days ago leaving the parents there. The son was improving so well that Mr. and Mrs. German deemed it wise to return. Mr. German was in the city yesterday and is loud in his praises of the manner in which the boys are cared for in camp and also affairs in general all about pleased him very much.

WATER WARNING AGAIN SOUNDED

Lake Supply is Constantly Receding—Health Conditions Do Not Improve.

At the Monday session of the city council it was again emphasized that the public must economize in the use of water as a matter of self-protection. The supply at the lake has been reduced to the danger point and the amount from the north wells is not as large as it once was. Commissioner Vasconcellos said, however, that the warning recently given had brought good results as the total consumption had dropped off perceptibly.

The commissioner also recounted the difficulties in his department on account of illness, a number of men being unable to report for duty. At the light plant Mr. Stoldt, the superintendent, has been working for twelve to sixteen hours a day. "Aside from these troubles," said the commissioner, "everything in my department is all right." Commissioner White reported that the railway and light company is doing a good job on East State street where the work of brickwork and the ditching is in progress. The street will be much more passable from Brown street to the railroad when this is finished. Mr. White said that now there was a good walk near the entrance to Passavant hospital and people can get on and off the car without discomfort.

Commissioner Martin said that conditions were not improving in the health department and that the total of 319 influenza cases were reported the past week, with 87 on Saturday. He said that everything possible was being done to stop the progress of the disease. Commissioner Martin also mentioned the condition of the fire department, which has been referred to before, where two men and the chief are the only ones now on duty, when the normal number of men in the department is eleven.

Mr. Widmayer had no report from the finance department.

Mayor Rodgers said he had no special report to make but referred to the work done by the emergency health committee, with which he has been associated. He said that the emergency hospital was proving of benefit and that there was still room for a few cases. The mayor stated also that the Degen hall on South Main street had been secured for further use of the emergency use. The committee is badly in need of further assistance.

HUNTING FOR APPLES

William Gilbert, Lee McLaughlin, Clifford Trotter and John McLaughlin, all of Pawnee were in the city yesterday in two automobiles hunting apples. It was a trifle like going to a goal's house for wool to come to this vicinity for the fruit as there are very few for sale in the county. They were recommended to try the Stewart orchard in Scott county and failing there to proceed across the river to Pike and Calhoun counties.

HAS ATTRACTIVE WINDOW

When is a pig not a pig? When it is the pig seen in W. D. Cody's display window, on West Court street, but it represents just the sort of pig the hog raiser will have if he gives him the brand of feed that Mr. Cody is extensively advertising in the Journal at present. The window is strikingly arranged, bags of the meal being placed advantageously about, while in the center piggy is contentedly eating and fattening.
